JEFF'S 23 YEARS OF EXPERIENCE WORKING WITH TEENS, EDUCATORS AND FAMILIES! BENEFIT FROM THE MAN THAT DEALS WITH TEEN SUICIDE EVERYDAY.

When one Indiana community lost 9 teens in one year. Including 4 teens in six weeks all to suicide, who did they call? Jeff Yalden answers the toughest questions parents, teens, and educators are asking. Jeff's theory goes beyond the text book definitions of mental health and teen depression. He makes sense and gives you information you've never thought could be causing teens wanting to end the pain.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS:

You’ll have a chance to ask your questions. This is your opportunity to get direct advice from a teen suicide prevention expert to help you and your school.

“This fall of 2013 we’ve already had two suicides. This follows a student suicide in 2012, a staff suicide in 2013, two accidental student deaths, and the death of another staff member. All this in two years. Following the suicide in 2012 (the boy’s father also took his life later that day), we gathered a group of individuals representative of the school and the community (law enforcement, mental health providers, local ministers, etc.) to determine what we could do as a school/community to deal with our loss and prevent additional lives lost to suicide. During a recent meeting it was decided that I should contact you about coming to our community to meet with our students, staff, and the community.” - Superintendent, Indiana
